

Student Chapter Awards¹

The ACS Committee on Education has selected the following student chapters in the Northeastern Section to receive special recognition for the programs and activities described in their 2013-2014 reports:

Commendable Recognition

- Gordon College, Wenham, MA; Brittany Marshall and In Hwa Chung, chapter co-presidents; Prof. Irvin Levy, faculty advisor
- Northeastern University, Boston, MA; Elise Miner and William Timson, chapter co-presidents; Prof. Kathleen Cameron, faculty advisor

Honorable Mention

- Simmons College, Boston, MA; Rebecca Koelin and Lillian Pham, chapter co-presidents; Prof. Changqing Chen, Faculty advisor
- Suffolk University, Boston, MA; Naira Aleksanyan, chapter president; Prof. Doris Lewis and Prof. Andrew Dutton, faculty advisors
- Tufts University, Medford, MA; John Lawrence and Emily Steliotes, chapter co-presidents; Prof. Sergiy Kryatov and Prof. Karen Ohagen, faculty advisors
- University of Massachusetts Lowell, Lowell, MA; Megan Lulsdorf and Tyler Harrison, chapter co-presidents; Prof. Kwok-Fan Chow, faculty advisor

Student involvement in applying green chemistry principles and practices is essential to the integration of environmentally benign technologies in academia and industry. The ACS Green Chemistry Institute recognizes ACS student chapters that have engaged in at least three green chemistry activities during the academic year. Listed below are the 2013-2014 Green Chemistry Award recipients located within the Northeastern Section.

- Gordon College, Wenham, MA
- Northeastern University, Boston, MA
- Suffolk University, Boston, MA
- University of Massachusetts Boston, Boston, MA

All chapters receiving special recognition will be honored at the 249th ACS National Chemistry Meeting in Denver, CO, on Sunday, March 22, 2015.

¹ All information and award descriptions from "inChemistry" magazine, November/December 2014 issue.

Marietta Schwartz

Associate Dean, College of Science and Mathematics
Director, Student Success Center
UMass Boston